BODY PIERCING AFTERCARE

Now that you have your new piercing you need to care for it correctly. You will need to purchase some ANTIBACTERIAL SOAP (no dyes or fragrances) to clean your piercing with. You will need to use this three times a day for the first two weeks, then two times a day for the next two weeks, then as needed until your piercing is healed. If you get an infection you should use sea salt (1/4 teaspoon to 8 ounces of warm water) to clean and irrigate the piercing once a day for five days make sure to RINSE OFF with warm water. Continue the use of the ANTIBACTERIAL soap, no more than twice a day. If the infection continues please contact your piercer.
DO NOT use Alcohol, Bedadine, Hydrogen Peroxide, or any Antibiotic Ointment on you new piercing.
DO NOT tan or soak (no swimming, hot tubs, Jacuzzi's, or bath tubs) for at least three weeks.
DO NOT play with your new piercing. The only time that you should touch your new piercing is during the cleaning process, and you should wash your hands before you touch the piercing.
DO NOT let your new piercing come in contact with any body fluids, either yours or someone else's. PIERCING HEALING TIMES MAY VARY WITH EACH PERSON but, general piercings take 4 to 6 weeks to heal.
